

Haynsworth Nomination Gets Boost

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate defender of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth said today critics of the Supreme Court nominee have produced only "a mouse of justification" for opposition to his confirmation.

Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., a key administration spokesman in Haynsworth battle, said while the opposition has accused Haynsworth of conflicts of interest, it has in fact been motivated "far more by disagreement with some of the decisions he has rendered as a judge of the court of appeals."

In a Senate speech that dealt with the cases and holdings cited by Sen. Birch Bayh, Cook said "I am left with the firm feeling that any lack of candor there may be is not that of Judge Haynsworth."

Haynsworth's supporters claimed a major assist from the American Bar Association's Federal Judiciary Committee, which Sunday reviewed and reaffirmed its support of the nominee.

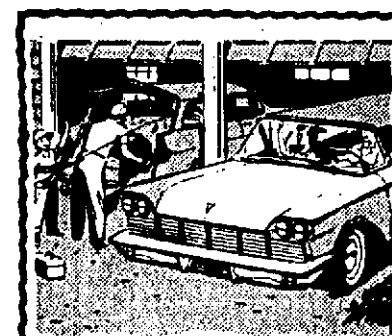

The ABA Judiciary Committee, a group of 12 lawyers, announced in New York Sunday night it had re-inspected Haynsworth's nomination in light of conflict of interest charges and found no reason to change its earlier endorsement.

The influential committee, a group of 12 lawyers, announced in New York Sunday night it had re-inspected Haynsworth's nomination in light of conflict of interest charges and found no reason to change its earlier endorsement.

The exact vote was not disclosed. Committee Chairman Lawrence E. Walsh, noting the original report favoring Haynsworth had been unanimous, said only that a substantial majority voted to reaffirm their original finding. He testified at Senate Judiciary Committee hearings Sept. 18 the ABA considered Haynsworth to be "highly qualified."

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., a chief supporter of the nomination, said the continued approval of the bar committee "will be a tremendous boost to the confirmation of Judge Haynsworth" to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas.

Haynsworth, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals, gained the approval of the Senate Judiciary Committee, 10-7, but faces a tough fight in the full Senate.

Av.	66.2	63.0	64.4	Total				60	86	59	42

During this period of 9 months in 1968 we were 3.2° below normal. Normal is arrived at by averaging the highest and lowest temperature for the 24 hour period. We were also below normal for same period 1969 with 64.4° which was 1.8° below normal. Question is how could we be so hot this summer and still be below normal. Every month in 1969 was below normal except July. May get some idea of why we were below normal by noting that during January, February and March we had 42 days when the temperature dropped to 32° or below. As you may recall during the first 3 months we had few extreme temperatures but consistently below normal day after day. Also, some cool nights during the summer lowered our normal temperatures.

Apparently, the above offset the 28 days in July and the same number of days in August of 90 degrees or above.

From January 1 to September 30, a total of 122 days, we had 82 days with 90° or above. This equals 67% or 2/3 of the days during this period the temperature reached 90° or more.

Month	PRECIPITATION				1969
	1968		Departure from Normal		Departure from Normal
	Normal	Total	Normal	Total	Normal	Total

Total	39.48	54.65	15.17	28.28	-11.20

It may be noted in 1968 only 3 months were below normal in precipitation with extremely high rainfall during May and June. In 1969 only February was above normal and this amounted to less than 1/2 inch. Since April 1 we have had a total of 14.23 inches and normal for the period is 24.80 giving a deficiency of 10.57 inches, or 43% below normal. Normal for July, August and September is 10.28". During this period we had only 3.93" or about one-third normal rainfall. When both years are put together the average is about normal which goes to prove that averages in this case doesn't mean much.

ning in November. "Intelligence obtained from prisoners and documents has consistently indicated that the objective of the (enemy's) fall campaign was to prepare for the winter-spring offensive," the assessment continued. "The enemy's actions to date seem to bear out these intentions. Recent enemy activity has been light throughout the 3rd Corps and the enemy's divisional elements have been largely inactive. It appears that he is attempting to use his subregional and local forces to maintain a semblance of pressure while preserving his main force units for the winter-spring campaign. "The low level of infiltration during August and September and lack of indications of sizeable numbers of arrivals suggests that the enemy may be forced to hold his main force units back in order to maintain a threat and to keep them intact for the next campaign. Other sources said the enemy troops are being extensively re-supplied with weapons and ammunition. Paratroopers from the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division uncovered one stockpile Sunday night 25 miles northwest of Saigon. Underground tunnels yielded 90 Chinese rifles, 21 light machine guns and more than 200 mortar shells. Only small fights were reported during the past 24 hours. The U.S. Command said American forces killed 48 North Vietnamese troops in four clashes near the Cambodian border north of Saigon. Three Americans were wounded. Other North Vietnamese troops moving behind a mortar barrage attacked a combined action platoon of U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese militiamen in night bivouac 75 miles southeast of Da Nang. The attackers were beaten back, U.S. headquarters said. Three Marines were wounded, and South Vietnamese casualties were light. Enemy losses were not known. The U.S. Command disclosed that it had scaled down B52 bombing missions across South Vietnam during the past six weeks, apparently in response to the low level of enemy activity. Well-timed silence hath more eloquence than speech. —Martin Tupper, English author.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

A.P. Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — More than one quarter of the nation watched on television all or part of Sunday's World Series baseball game, the NBC Research Department estimated—and that did not include an additional million listening to radio.

The Mets-Orioles game with its cliff-hanger ninth inning attracted an audience of 58.5 million, the network's statisticians estimated, and some 51.5 million watched the televised action Saturday.

"The FBI" on ABC is back for another season with the blessing and cooperation of the agency. With that kind of a assistance, it seems a shame the series cannot rise—in plot, scripts or attitude—above the level of a grade C cops-and-robbers feature film of the 1940s.

The subject Sunday night was jury tampering—and the Mafia, almost incidentally. The way "The FBI" told it, the Mafia was handing out money and bullets lavishly to protect one of its chieftains. There was little to suggest the far-reaching operations of the crime syndicate.

The story was simple. A worried, broke young student was moonlighting as a gas station attendant and, picked for jury duty, was approached with a $5,000 bribe to find the Mafia man, named Carl Torrance, innocent. The money exchange was seen by a fellow employee who put the bite on him for the second $5,000, after the not guilty verdict.

A Mafia lieutenant—you know he was sinister because he wore dark glasses all the time—got rid of the blackmailer. Meanwhile the stalwarts of the FBI were closing in, and were helped immeasurably by the worried young man. He was so overcome and happy by the birth of his first child that he broke down and told all.

The show wound up with a chase around a busy air terminal and, as always, the bad guy in custody.

The show tends not only to be corny but to stick to clichés.

Efrem Zimbalist Jr. plays the cool, calm inspector Erskine with a brisk familiarity of long and uninspired practice.

NBC will pre-empt the "Tonight Show" Wednesday for a 90-minute, special late night report on that days nationwide moratorium calling for withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

drawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

The network has another of its "multispecial" night's this evening. Bob Hope's comedy hour—9-10 p.m. EDT—will be followed by a Milt Gaynor variety special. By putting two specials together, NBC fills a two-hour time block usually occupied by a movie.

Sonja Henie, Skating Movie Star Dies

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Sonja Henie, who put ice skating into show business and made millions, will be buried in her native Norway.

Miss Henie died Sunday night aboard an ambulance plane bringing her home from a vacation in France with her third husband, shipping magnate Niels Onstad. She was 57 and had been suffering from leukemia for nine months, but the public and most of her friends did not know.

The condition of the three-time Olympic gold medalist suddenly worsened in Paris and a doctor who was called in advised Onstad to take her home.

"We had been flying only an hour and she just slept away," the husband said.

Miss Henie kept up her skating—and her 110-pound, 5-foot-2 figure—after she stopped performing in the mid-1950s, but after her marriage to Onstad in 1956 she devoted more and more time to the outstanding collection of modern art which he had started.

In 1958, the Onstads gave Norway 250 of their paintings, housing them in the $3.5 million Høvikodden Art Center which they built outside Oslo. Miss Henie's many skating trophies have been on display in the art center since last year, and recently she announced plans to build a retirement home next to the museum.

An American citizen since 1941, Miss Henie kept a mansion in the Holmby Hills section of Los Angeles and she and Onstad also maintained an estate near Oslo and an apartment in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Her success story began with a family Christmas gift of skates in 1920, when she was a chubby 8-year-old blonde. The following year she won Oslo's junior skating championship, and three years later competed in her first Olympics—finishing last.

She won her first world figure skating championship in 1927, and new titles came in quick succession: her first Olympics gold medal in 1928, again in 1932 and 1936; the European championship every year from 1929 through 1938.

She turned professional in 1936, making a tour of the United States in an ice show. Her skill and showmanship, her flashing smile and brilliant technique, and her lavish productions of dance on ice captivated the public and packed arenas across the country.

She told interviewers that she wanted to go into the movies, "to do with skates what Fred Astaire is doing with dancing." When her show reached Hollywood, the story goes, her manager breathlessly reported that producer Darryl Zanuck was at the arena.

"What shall I do?" he asked. "Sell him a ticket," Miss Henie answered.

Zanuck offered her $10,000 a picture, but she held out for $100,000. Negotiations stalled briefly, then Zanuck's aide let her know that the producer wanted to see her.

"Then let Mr. Zanuck call me," she replied.

They finally got together, and her films reportedly grossed $25 million.

Miss Henie's first husband was millionaire sportsman Dan Topping, whom she divorced in 1946 after a 5½-year marriage. She married Winthrop Gardiner Jr., scion of an old New York family, in 1949. They were divorced in May 1956, and she married Onstad the next month.

Hope Star SPORTS

Fairview Is Next Target of Bobcats

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Halfway through the season, the Hope Bobcats have plenty to be proud of, but all that will stand the sternest test this Friday with the big 4-AA West collision at Camden Fairview.

As a breather before the war, the Cats plastered the North Little Rock Oak Grove Hornets 47-7 last Friday night at Hammond Stadium.

That increased the Hope winning streak to five games and upped the season record to 5-1 and the reserves accounted for more than half the points against Oak Grove.

However, Fairview is 4-1 and rolling smoothly since an early 27-7 licking at the hands of a Camden team since demolished by injuries. And the Cardinals want revenge on the league for last year, when Malvern edged the Redbirds 14-13 in the final game of the regular season for the 4-AA West title.

Last year Hope hosted Fairview on the HHS Homecoming, and nearly pulled off a big upset before dropping a tight 20-14 decision. Card Coach George Branch will remember that one to his boys all week, but they have actually had two weeks to prepare discounting a 48-0 stomping of Camden Lincoln last Thursday which wasn't any more than a scrimmage.

When Bobcat players get high and happy with their 5-1 record, they can read here that those six opponents gone by have compiled a lowly 13-23 record, while Hope's last six games will be against teams which have a composite 21-11 record at this time.

With that in mind, Coach Ronnie Higgins should have few problems in readying the Cats for Friday night, excepting for a few injuries.

Soph defensive tackle, Lynn Norton is going through the recovery of his broken thumb, and will play at Fairview in a plastic cast for his hand arrives in time. And Jim Alford, the other tackle on defense, re-injured a troublesome ankle early against Oak Grove and probably will be at less than full speed.

Quarterback Ronnie Massanelli has been bothered by some time with a bad ankle and foot, which has been quite painful at times. He should be able to run, as will Artis Martin after sitting out last week.

All things considered, the bone-crushing battle slated at Camden Fairview for Friday night should be the tensest, most high-strung matchup so far. And the Cardinals will be everybody's favorite because they have been winning all along while Hope has only come to the crest in 1969.

As certain underdogs for the first time this fall, though, the psychology should work out favorably for Hope.

Tonight the "B" Lizards will host Prescott at Hammond Stadium, with kickoff time set for 7:30 p.m. The Hope reserves have been seeing much action lately and should be about even with a strong Prescott Jayvee squad.

Kansas City Squashes Houston

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kansas City and Houston had rain, Denver and Oakland contended with freezing weather, and the Cincinnati Bengals ran into a couple of more natural phenomena—Matt Snell and Emerson Bozzer.

As Kansas City squashed Houston 24-0 and Oakland spilled Denver 24-14 in adverse weather, Snell and Bozzer poured through Cincinnati's defenses for a combined 178 yards and gave revitalized New York a 21-7 American Football League victory Sunday.

"I like to do my running in a hot climate—you're loose," said Bozzer after carving out 129 yards overland. "I've sure been waiting for this."

Snell chipped in with 49 more yards in 12 carries, a 4.1 average.

Porkers Finally Lick Baylor

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks have come to believe that the fourth quarter belongs to them.

At the end of the third period, the Arkansas players on the sidelines came to their feet, holding up four fingers.

Last Saturday night at Waco, Tex., the Razorbacks made the final quarter theirs once again.

Entering the fourth quarter, Arkansas was tied 7-7 with an aroused bunch of Baylor Bears.

Minutes later the Razorbacks had completed a 93-yard drive for a 14-7 lead. Two possessions later linebacker Cliff Powell forced a fumble that defensive halfback Jerry Moore recovered at the Baylor 28 and Arkansas was on its way to a 21-7 victory.

"We backed them up to their seven-yard line at the end of the third period, against the wind," said Baylor Coach Bill Beall. "If they don't get out of there, we've got field position at the start of the last quarter."

"We had to have a lot of character when they tied it up in the third quarter," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. "When you go ahead from 93 yards, you've got some character."

On offense, it was the big-play sophomores of 1968—Bill Burnett, Bill Montgomery and Chuck Dicus—who proved they hadn't lost the touch.

Tailback Bill Burnett, who scored 16 touchdowns last year, pushed his total to seven for the 1969 season with three against the Bears.

"I've never seen a better short-yardage runner," said Broyles. "Bill never lets a defensive man get his shoulder pads underneath him. He twists his body at the last second and he always goes forward again after contact."

It was Dicus' 48-yard reception of a Montgomery pass that set up the go-ahead touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

The catch, however, may be costly.

Broyles said Dicus suffered a stretched ligament in his shoulder and would be out for at least three weeks.

Since the Razorbacks have an open date next Saturday, Dicus would miss the Wichita State game Oct. 25 and the Texas A&M contest Nov. 1.

This is the first time the Razorbacks have had an off week during the middle of the season since Broyles came to Arkansas 12 years ago.

"It will give us time to get the crimples well and give us a chance to gain some mental freshness," Broyles said.

In the National Football League Sunday, Washington shocked St. Louis, 33-17; New York nipped Pittsburgh, 10-7; Los Angeles pulled out a 27-21 win over San Francisco; Dallas tripped Atlanta, 24-17; Minnesota walloped Chicago, 31-0; Green Bay knocked off Detroit 28-17, and Cleveland downed New Orleans, 27-17.

The Jets proved they didn't have to entirely depend on quarterback Joe Namath's arm to establish an aggressive offense. Bozzer and Snell kept broaching the Bengals' defense with their crackling runs and Namath kept them honest with 14 completions in 26 attempts for 163 yards and one touchdown.

New York punched out 222 yards on the ground, and Namath thanked his offensive line for that performance.

"It wasn't easy to run against Cincinnati (but)...our guys were just on that line," Namath said.

The victory gave the defending Super Bowl champs their second straight victory, and a 3-2 mark to tie with Houston for first place in the Eastern Division.

Couple Big Upsets in College Play

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Ron Ayala cried Saturday night—and he won. Can you imagine how Stanford felt?

The cause of Ayala's tears of joy was the 34-yard field goal he kicked as time ran out that gave fourth-ranked Southern California a 26-24 victory over 16th-ranked Stanford, a key triumph on the road to the Rose Bowl.

One week earlier Stanford lost to Purdue 36-35 on a two-point conversion pass in the waning moments.

Stanford wasn't the only team singing the blues over the weekend. Mississippi stunned sixth-ranked Georgia 25-17, Michigan shocked ninth-ranked Purdue 30-21 and lowly Vanderbilt pulled the upset of the year thus far, a 14-10 victory over 13th-ranked Alabama.

But not all was disaster for the nation's gridiron elite. Top-ranked Ohio State, ineligible for a return trip to the Rose Bowl—how about the Super Bowl?—hammered No. 19 Michigan State 54-21 and runner-up Texas held off eighth-ranked Oklahoma 27-17.

Arkansas, a s-ranked third, fought past stubborn Baylor 21-7 and fifth-ranked Penn State put No. 17 West Virginia through its meatgrinder defense 20-0.

Rounding out the Top Ten, seventh-ranked Missouri topped Nebraska 17-7 on Terry McMillan's two touchdown passes and Tennessee's brilliant line-backing team of Jack Reynolds and Steve Kiner played havoc with Georgia Tech as the 10th-ranked Volunteers rolled to a 26-8 triumph.

Southern Cal's Ayala came through with his winning field goal after Jimmy Jones led the Trojans from their own 15 to the Stanford 17 on eight plays in 53 seconds.

"I felt I could make it," said Ayala. "Then it looked high and to the left and just seemed to drift back in. That's the first time I've cried after a game."

Winning coaches usually are tossed into the showers by their players, but Ole Miss reversed the procedure. Quarterback Archie Manning, sidelined late in the first half, was revived under an ice cold shower during the intermission and came back to lead the Rebels past Georgia.

Michigan's Don Moorhead outshone Purdue's fabled Mike Phipps by completing 15 of 25 passes for 247 yards in the Wolverines' important Big Ten triumph.

Bear Bryant took the blame for Alabama's surprising defeat, which came on a 10-yard pass from Watson Brown to Jim Cunningham with 2:49 remaining.

"Bill Pace and his staff have done a terrific job," Bryant said. "You've got to give him credit for taking the program at Vanderbilt and bringing it up to where they beat us. And, apparently, I've taken ours to where we got beat."

"Bill did a 10 times better job of preparation."

As usual, Rex Kern was the architect of Ohio State's lopsided victory, passing for three touchdowns and scoring twice. Ground-minded Texas, which threw only 27 passes in its first three games, went to the air 18 times to beat Oklahoma. Cotton Speyrer caught eight passes for 160 yards.

Bill Burnett scored all three touchdowns for Arkansas but the Razorbacks got some bad news when pass-catching ace Chuck Dicus suffered a slight shoulder separation that will keep him out of the next few games. Penn State's stifled West Virginia's potent attack with three first-half interceptions.

UCLA, ranked 11th, crushed Washington 46-14 with Dennis Dummitt passing for three touchdowns and Greg Jones scoring three. Florida, No. 12, needed a late two-point conversion pass from super soph John Reeves to super soph Carlos Alvarez to nip Tulane 18-17.

Notre Dame, ranked 15th, blitzed Army 45-0, handing the Cadets their worst defeat of the famed series. No. 18 Wyoming walloped Texas-El Paso 37-9 and Auburn, tied with Nebraska for 20th, crushed Clemson 51-0.

quagmire by game's end. The bad weather contributed to four AFL fumble records broken or tied.

The Chiefs intercepted five passes by Houston's Pete Beathard, but fumbled the ball away six times for a record. Three teams previously had lost five fumbles in one league game.

Also broken was the AFL mark of 14 fumbles by two teams. The old mark was 13, also three other times.

Local Plant Salesman

DAVE FELDER

Dave Felder, whose experience in the mobile home industry dates back to 1955, has been named sales representative in the Southwest for Homestead Industries, Inc., which has just introduced its "Young American" line of homes.

His appointment was announced by Tony F. Mays, vice president for marketing for Homestead, a division of Mid-America Housing, Inc., with home office in Birmingham, Alabama.

Homestead's new plant at Hope, Ark., will employ about 160 people, with a daily production goal of 12 units. The "Young American" line will be deluxe homes, in the medium price range, concentrating on units 12 feet wide and 60 to 65 feet long.

Felder entered the mobile home business in New York in 1955, but returned to his native Texas in 1959 to enter retail selling. Since 1961, however, he has been in both retail and manufacturing ends of the mobile home industry, in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

He has moved to Hope, with his wife and two children.

Wants Priority for College

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The president of Shorter College in North Little Rock says the fact that Shorter was not on a priority list of federally financed construction projects has "alarmed" him.

The Rev. R. J. Hampton made the statement after the state Commission on Coordination of Higher Educational Finance released the list.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller asked for the list after President Nixon announced a 75 percent cutback in construction projects which the federal government helps finance.

Lengthy Speech

The longest speech in the history of the U.S. Senate was made by Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.), who held the Senate floor 24 hours 18 minutes on Aug. 28-29, 1957, eclipsing the record filibuster of 22 hours 26 minutes set by Sen. Wayne Morse in 1953.

Bruins Off to Winning Start in Hockey

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins admit they're not quite as hot as steaming Boston Garden, but they're warm enough to be off to a winning start in the National Hockey League.

"It was tough out there, on both teams, but it's good to get off to a winning start," Coach Harry Sinden said Sunday night after the Bruins opened with a 2-1 decision over the New York Rangers.

In the only other action, Mike Laughton scored two goals 38 seconds apart early in the third period and the Oakland Seals held on to beat the Chicago Black Hawks 2-1.

The combination of warm local weather and a sellout crowd of 14,831 in the Garden took its toll on the Bruins, but they managed to make two early power play goals stand up against the Rangers.

New York came on strong in the third period, but veteran goalie Eddie Johnston turned in a fine performance and thwarted every effort by the Rangers to pull out at least a tie in the final 20 minutes.

"Eddie looked good out there — he played well, very well," Sinden said in praising Johnston, who turned aside 37 shots, including 12 in the third period.

The Bruins, who set an NHL record by scoring 303 goals but had to settle for a second place finish behind Montreal in the East Division last season, got off to a fast start, capitalizing on two penalties.

With Jim Neilson in the penalty box, the Bruins' Fred Stanfield, a 25-goal scorer last year, tallied on a 30-foot shot after being set up by Johnny McKenzie and Bobby Orr at 1:05 in the first period.

Orr, the league's outstanding defenseman in the 1968-69 campaign who has missed much of training because of a knee injury, set up another goal. He fed Stanfield who let a shot go from the point. New York goalie Ed Giacomin made a fine save, but McKenzie jumped on the rebound and made it 2-0 at 8:04.

New York took the cue as Jean Ratelle poked the puck into a wide open net after Johnston saved on Vic Hadfield with Boston short-handed at 12:18. However, Johnston refused to budge the rest of the way and held off the Rangers.

The Rangers, rebuilding gradually under Coach Emile Francis, were strong defensively in their debut. However, they're offense sputtered after Capt. Bob Nevin suffered a knee injury when hit by Jim Lorentz, who took a charging penalty for his effort early in the first period.

Oakland's Laughton broke a scoreless tie at 2:10 of the final period, beating Chicago goalie Denis DeJordy with the Hawks' Jim Pappin in the penalty box. Laughton connected again at 2:48. Both goals were set up by Bill Hicke and Brian Perry.

Doug Mohs got Chicago's only goal at 11:13, a power play tally. He was assisted by Stan Mikita and Jim Wiste.

Saturday night it was Montreal 5, Los Angeles 1; Detroit 3, Toronto 2; St. Louis 7, Chicago 2; Minnesota 4, Philadelphia 0; Oakland 2, Pittsburgh 2.

Service Club Graft Probe Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's wide-ranging probe into military graft turned again today to Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner, the Army's former provost marshal charged with using his position to improperly obtain confiscated guns from civilian police departments.

Along with Turner, the Senate investigations subcommittee scheduled testimony from Chicago Police Supt. James Conlisk, who said last week the retired general had lied when claiming the guns were knowingly given to him for his personal use.

Conlisk had said Turner told him at the time he wanted the weapons for Army training and museum display and signed receipts stating they would be destroyed when no longer of use to the service.

Genlisk's remarks followed earlier testimony by Turner that Chicago Police knowingly handed the guns over to him.

"... They were going to destroy them and they gave them to me personally," Turner told the subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Turner, who was appointed chief U.S. Marshal before he was forced to resign last month in the face of the impending Senate hearings, went to Chicago last year to represent the Army chief of staff during rioting.

Robinson Insists He Will Play

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles insists that he will play in Tuesday's third game of the World Series despite a badly bruised right instep.

"It's very painful now, but I'll play," Robinson said before the Orioles left Baltimore on a train ride to New York. "This is no time to be sitting on the bench."

Robinson was injured by his own foul ball in batting practice prior to Sunday's game, which the Mets won 2-1 and tied the series at 1-1.

During Baltimore's scheduled workout today in Shea Stadium, where the Series resumes Tuesday, Robinson was to undergo whirlpool treatments. The foot will be bandaged when he plays.

While Robinson was undergoing ice pack treatments Sunday night, his comments continued to stir up heated controversy.

Three Killed on Arkansas Highways

An Associated Press count shows that three persons died in traffic accidents on the Arkansas highways during the 54-hour weekend period.

The death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended Sunday night at midnight.

State Police identified the victims as John Ernest Humphreys, 54, of Pine Bluff; Raymond Shores, 21, of Waldron; and Vickie Jones, 18, of Tyronza.

Humphreys was killed Sunday in a two-vehicle crash about 10 miles north of Star City on Arkansas 81.

Officers said Shores was killed when he struck his head out a car window and it struck a bridge marker post. The accident occurred on Arkansas 2 about 20 miles west of Waldron.

Miss Jones was killed Friday night while riding in a car which ran off U.S. 63 and turned over three times.

Interested in Running for Congress

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — Norman Warnock, 55, an official of the American Party of Arkansas, says he is not without interest when it comes to the possibility of running for Congress.

The retired Army colonel, who practices law at Camden, is supported by some who want him to oppose Rep. David Pryor, a Democrat, in the 4th District in the next election.

Dr. Mitchell Young, head of Freedom Inc., the Texarkana-based organization which endorses "freedom-of-choice" school desegregation plans over unitary school plans, is one such supporter.

Young told a freedom-of-choice rally in Texarkana Friday night that others were urging Warnock to run against Pryor.

"David Pryor hasn't done much openly to solve the problem," Warnock said in an interview Saturday.

The problem, said Warnock, is the situation schools are put in by federal demands for integration, federal concern with demands of Negroes.

Warnock, a delegate to the state Constitutional Convention, compared black militants to the Nazis of Germany in the 1930s, "a move toward minority rule with the use of beatings and such tactics as that."

The 20-county 4th District was carried in the 1968 presidential race by George C. Wallace, the former Alabama governor who ran on the American party ticket.

Jim: "How about showing one of the hands that helped you and mother win the Senior Pairs at the Summer Nationals?"

Oswald: "It is a pleasant coincidence in that our victory in this event for players over 55 coincided with your team's win in the Spingold. Now I can start to enjoy my semi-retirement. Here is a hand that was worth a lot of match points. The bidding is rather typical of what happens when your mother and I play together. I never got around to raising spades and she dodged becoming declarer at no-trump."

"The hand would probably play better from her seat and I had to go through a lot of gyrations to make my contract. I started by playing a low heart from dummy. East played the 10 after enough study, so that I decided he held the king. Therefore, I let East hold the trick. He shifted to the queen of clubs."

"I won in my hand and led the nine of spades. West went right up with his ace and led the jack of hearts. I played low from dummy, East played his eight and I won with my ace. Then I led a spade, finessed dummy's jack and ran the rest of the spades."

Jim: "I can see the wind-up. East had to discard the eight of clubs and two diamonds. Then you eventually threw him in and he had to lead away from the king of diamonds to give you two diamond tricks."

Oswald: "Right, of course! Other pairs failed to reach game and those who played four spades usually were set."

Jim: "Quite a hand. Somehow, I feel that letting you play in the Senior Pairs is about the same as turning a fox loose in a farmyard."

THE WELL CHILD

It's Best to Supervise Child's TV Watching

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Do the cartoons and other television programs your child watches belong in the weird-o-superhero-supervillain class? The chances are many of them do. If so, how serious is their effect on young minds? The producers defend such programs by stressing the fact that the actual violence always occurs off-camera and no dead bodies are shown. They further state that the worst television can do is to stimulate the abnormal child, already a delinquent, to violent action.

The well-known psychiatrist, Dr. Frederic Wertham, does not agree. He believes that the films give the normal child the impression that violence is the proper way to settle differences. A recent poll indicates that 81 per cent of the members of the American Psychiatric Association agree with Dr. Wertham. Another survey revealed that most children, when they graduate from high school, will have spent 36 per cent more hours watching television than they have spent in the classroom and that not over 5 per cent of parents exert any supervision over the viewing done by their children.

Concerned parents should not only control the type of shows their children see but also exert some pressure for reform on the program producers through PTA and other civic organizations. It is just as important to protect your child against the violence of other children as it is to curb his own violent impulses.

Q—My nephew, 15, has white spots about the size of a dime on his face and chest. They are slightly rougher than the normal skin but not scaly. What causes them and how can he get rid of them?

A—Your nephew may have vitiligo, sometimes referred to as freckles in reverse, but with this condition there is no change in the texture of the skin. The cause is unknown. Trioxsalen taken by mouth over a long period may be helpful. The only other treatment is the use of masking cosmetics.

In some persons with the mild fungus disease, tinea versicolor, healing leaves areas of loss of pigment and might account for the roughened surface.

Q—Recently my young son was hospitalized and a diagnosis of Wolff-Parkinson-White syndrome was made. Is this serious?

A—In this congenital disorder, the victim has attacks of very rapid pulse with characteristic electrocardiographic changes. The disease is not to be taken lightly but it can be controlled with quinidine or procaine.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Boris Pasternak, Russian poet and novelist, was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature in 1958. The World Almanac recalls his first reaction to be a joyful acceptance of the award. After his expulsion from the Soviet Writers' Union, however, and a week of extreme verbal pressure and abuse, Pasternak wired Stockholm to decline, "in view of the meaning given to this honor in the community to which I belong."

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:

The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899—Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude McCorkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:

1880—Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.

1883—Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1893—Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

1894—Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W. Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916—Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald—but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926—Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly Hempstead County Review.

1927—Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929—C. E. Palmer and A.H. Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.

1957—Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.

1969—With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president—balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

der the military pay act, not through welfare.

Using Pentagon figures, the National Council on Hunger and Malnutrition calculates that about 200,000 military families are eligible for the Agriculture Department's food stamp program.

The Defense Department, however, bans use of food stamps in its 315 commissaries.

At an Army base near Washington, a military family service agency put together a sample budget to meet the minimum needs of a corporal with a wife and child. Despite the low prices available in commissaries and post exchange stores, the agency concluded the family "must live below the poverty level in this area."

As a result, it was, the soldier must either moonlight, baby sit while his wife works nights, seek help from relatives or turn to welfare.

In a rundown trailer camp in Browns Mills, N.J., for example, a 20-year-old Air Force enlisted man lives with his wife and infant son. They tried getting by on the $265 a month in pay and allowances he earns as an airman first class at nearby McGuire Air Force Base, but couldn't make it.

New Jersey welfare officials figured the family needed $400 a month to live on, so the state gives it a $135 monthly welfare grant.

"The money would be okay if no problems came up, but once in a while you get hit with some bills and you're stuck," said the airman, who pays $115 rent for his shabby four-room trailer.

He says he'd rather live on base, but there's not enough free housing for the lower ranking men. "They tell me it's privilege to live off base," he said.

A few miles away lives a mother and eight children whose father, an Army sergeant, ramrods an infantry company in Vietnam. He sends home $400 of his $595 monthly pay and allowances.

Burlington County welfare officials, who give the family $158 a month, say the mother had been working but became sick and was forced to quit before turning to welfare.

At Ft. Dix, located in Burlington County, the Army says that 100 families are eligible for welfare. About 30 cases a month are referred to welfare agencies, says a community service officer at the base.

And Burlington County welfare director Robert Gallagher said, "We're only scratching the surface here. If other servicemen stopped moonlighting and swallowed their pride, I think they'd come in greater numbers."

New York City reports more than 300 military welfare cases. In Connecticut, welfare commissioner Bernard Shapiro says "there are no more than several dozen cases."

Virginia and California are among several states that grant welfare payments to a serviceman's wife and children when his pay and allowances are cut off, as happens when he goes AWOL or is disciplined for other reasons. The military makes no provisions for families in these cases.

The Defense Department, at the request of Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., and Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn., has asked the states how many service-men are on their relief rolls. The study is to be disclosed this month, but it may be incomplete. Many states told the Pentagon it's impossible to come up with a figure without going through their welfare rolls, case by case, a Pentagon source said.

There have been four military pay increases since 1965, raising a private's base pay from $78 a month to $123. But there's also been a 17 per cent increase in the cost of living.

"We have a system of involuntary servitude that condemns a serviceman to a life of poverty—which we're supposed to be waging a war against," declares Rep. Alvin O'Konski, R-Wis., a member of the House Armed Services Committee.

The military pay system has long been geared to the use of large numbers of young, single men drafted into its ranks, quartered in barracks, fed, clothed, and watched over by a comparatively small cadre of older men, thus enabling them to live off a meager salary.

But the Vietnam war brought higher draft calls and the induction of more married men, many of whom have children, especially college graduates called when their student deferments expire.

Between May 1966 and February 1969, the number of married enlisted men in the Army alone rose by 140,000 to a total of 516,000. Military housing hasn't kept pace and at most posts is unavailable to men in the first four ranks.

In addition to base pay of $123 a month, a private with a wife and child who lives off base receives $90 a month in quarters allowance. With one dependent the allowance is $60, with three or more it's $105.

"A family man can get housing near a southern base for $50 a month, but in the northeast, Chicago, or San Francisco, it's well over $100 a month, Gallagher said. He favors a cost of living differential depending on the area.

At a large southern Army post, 26 soldiers applying for Army Emergency Relief loans during a five-day period last month were asked if they'd turn to public welfare if it were available to them. Ten said yes. The others answered no, mostly because, they said, of their pride.

"The Army takes care of its own, but it sends out a double message that a man should be able to take care of himself and his family," says the post's community services officer. "There's a fear or hesitancy among the men about even seeking social services available to them from the Army."

Emergency Relief and the Red Cross help servicemen with individual loans on an emergency basis. They don't help with continuing financial troubles.

Court to Rule on Limit Set on Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to hear arguments on whether states can set limits on a family's welfare assistance.

The court will consider an appeal from Maryland, where a $250-a-month family maximum was ruled illegal last March by a Federal court in Baltimore.

At the same time the high court took on an appeal that questions a $10 million a month reduction in welfare assistance to families in New York state.

Attorneys for 10 welfare clients say the reduction, begun last summer, conflicts with a congressional command that Aid to Families with Dependent Children payments be increased to reflect an increase in welfare living costs.

The two appeals, granted review as the court got down to business for the new term, expand the already searching inquiry the court will make this year into the rights of the poor.

Court Lets Conviction of Rape Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today the kidnap-rape conviction of Ernesto A. Miranda, the Arizona truckdriver whose case led to the celebrated Miranda decision.

This time the court sustained the Arizona Supreme Court, which ruled last February that Miranda's conviction was legally proper.

Miranda had been re-tried, convicted again and sentenced to 20 to 30 years in prison following the court's 1966 ruling that police had obtained an invalid confession from him.

With the same ruling, the court required police everywhere to advise suspects under interrogation that they have a right to remain silent and a right to have a lawyer's assistance.

Appealing the second conviction, Miranda's attorneys claimed it also was invalid because the trial judge allowed him to be questioned in court about the confession and had Miranda restate the confession.

The conviction was for the kidnap-rape of an 18-year-old girl in Phoenix in 1963. Miranda has been in prison ever since his arrest in March of that year.

Many Servicemen Have Been Forced to Put Families on Welfare

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of servicemen have been forced to put their families on the nation's welfare rolls because their military salaries and allowances can't cope with rising living costs.

From New Jersey to California, an Associated Press study showed, public welfare agencies are supplementing allotment checks from Vietnam, paying the rent of carried draftees, or buying groceries for families whose breadwinners serve overseas.

The problem is compounded in many areas by a shortage of on-base quarters for military families. The shortage results in part from a sharp increase in the number of married men in uniform—in the Army's lower ranks, for example, the number of married men has jumped 37 per cent in three years.

The precise number of military families on welfare isn't known—their names are hidden in the bureaucratic morass of state and local welfare departments.

But Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird recently estimated that 50,000 service families could qualify for public assistance under President Nixon's proposed welfare program.

"Too many families suffer financial hardships, some of whom are forced to go on welfare to survive," said Laird, who—under congressional prodding—has ordered a nationwide survey to determine the number of military welfare cases.

The last Pentagon report, made four years ago, disclosed 20,000 military families were receiving some sort of public assistance, and that more than a third of all men—including officers—moonlighted at some time during the year to bolster their income.

The Nixon welfare plan, now before Congress, sets $3,920 a year as the poverty level for a family of four. Pentagon figures show that at 1.2 million men in the armed forces' lowest three ranks receive less than that amount annually.

The Nixon proposals, however, specifically exclude servicemen from coverage. Poverty in the military, reasons a federal welfare official, should be taken care of by the military.

Judgment in Land Case Is Upheld

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld a $20,000 judgment to a Craighead County landowner for 3.94 acres claimed by the State Highway Commission for a U.S. 63 bypass.

The Highway Commission had appealed on the grounds that the sum was excessive. It equals $5,075 per acre.

An appraiser for the state Highway Department said the land was worth $6,000 an acre, but the commission contended that the award by a jury at Jonesboro was excessive.

Mrs. Louise Tilley, who owned the land as part of a 27-acre tract, contended that the unclaimed portion of her property would not be increased in value significantly by construction of the bypass. The commission witnesses argued that property value would be raised and that the award for the land taken for the bypass should be lower.

The high court reversed and dismissed a $20,000 judgement awarded Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to Virgil Davis; who was injured in 1965 while operating a road grader when it overturned.

Davis contended the company was responsible since the injury took place on a Southwestern Bell easement along the road. Southwestern Bell had contended that Davis was trespassing and could not hold the company responsible for his injury.

Lull in War Expected to Continue

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The lull in the Vietnam war, now in its sixth week, is expected to continue, a U.S. estimate said today, but only until the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are ready to launch their winter-spring campaign.

An official assessment for the 3rd Military Corps Zone, which includes Saigon, reported: "Except for scattered attacks by fire (rockets and mortars) and light ground probes, the enemy is expected to prolong his period of reorganization and re-fitting while awaiting political developments and preparing for his next campaign."

The estimate gave no timetable for the start of the next campaign, but some U.S. officials have said the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese plan a winter-spring campaign beginning in January.

Militants Swarm Base in Protest

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Some 5,000 demonstrators against the Vietnam war, Army justice and the treatment of racial militants swarmed on this post Sunday in a confrontation with 1,000 military policemen.

The impromptu invasion was finally repulsed with jets of tear gas which drove the racially mixed group, many coughing and wheezing, off a field near the base family housing area.

There were no arrests and, except for the effects of the gas, no reported injuries.

"We have made our point," Herb Dryer, a demonstration leader, shouted through a bullhorn to the retreating crowd.

The demonstration brought together members of such varied organizations as the Catholic Peace Fellowship, the Black Panther party, the Puerto Rican Youth Lords and students from Princeton, Columbia, New York and other universities in the area.

The demonstration was organized at a coffee house in nearby Wrightstown which has served as a meeting place for dissident Ft. Dix personnel.

The protesters marched to Ft. Dix under the banner of the "Committee to Save the Ft. Dix 38"—reference to a group of servicemen accused of fomenting a riot while imprisoned in the base stockade last June.

While military police barricaded road entrances to the base, the demonstrators, mostly young and including a number of helmeted young women, veered off the highway into the empty field.

Within minutes hundreds of gas-masked MPs arrived to repel the marchers.

The two groups confronted each other at close quarters with the demonstrators inches away from the troops' bayonets.

After repeated appeals to the demonstrators to leave, Col. Bernard Carr, post Marshal, gave the order to fire the tear gas.

The Army contends that only 35 men were involved in the stockade disturbance, that only four have been sentenced so far and that investigation's still pending for only six.

Noise of Dissent Has Hurt Chance for Quick Peace, Nixon Thinks

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, facing a new wave of protests breaking across the nation, says chances of a quick negotiated Vietnam peace have been shattered by the noise of dissent.

"There is so much dissent here, and there are so many voices being heard that I think they (the North Vietnamese) must have the feeling that the President doesn't have the amount of support necessary to carry on for a long time," Rogers said Sunday.

"There hasn't been any progress in Paris for the last two or three months," he said, "and I would doubt very much that there would be any progress unless it is clear that President Nixon's policy is supported by the American people."

This apparent disunity, Rogers said, all but rules out "any possibility of a negotiated settlement, at least for two months."

Rogers, somber assessment of domestic dissent came three days before antiwar forces open a series of demonstrations described by organizers as a moratorium on routine life designed to show the nation's concern with the war.

There were challenges to Rogers' position from moratorium leaders, politicians of both parties and educators.

"For years we've heard the repetition of this same old fallow argument," Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Sunday. "You must not speak up, even though you are a free people, because somehow this will not set well somewhere else and upset the President's plans."

Rogers was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press," while Church spoke on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Sam Brown, leader of Wednesday's moratorium movement, disputed that the protests are aimed at destroying President Nixon or any other person.

"I think Vietnam is probably the most calamitous mistake that has ever been made in the diplomatic history of the United States and if this war persists, it will also destroy President Nixon, but that won't be the work of the dissenters," Brown said.

Russia Sends Third Ship Into Space

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union sent up a third spaceship today with two veteran cosmonauts aboard, putting the third manned spacecraft into orbit at the same time for the first time in history.

Vladimir Shatalov and Alexei Yeliseyev were aboard the latest craft rocketed into space, Soyuz 8. It joined Soyuz 6, which was sent up Saturday with two men aboard, and Soyuz 7, which blasted off Sunday with three men aboard.

It is believed that the seven cosmonauts will try to put together a space platform for another space first and one that to some extent would offset the prestige lead which the Apollo moon landing gave the United States.

The Soviet Union has not produced a major first in manned space flight since Alexei Leonov took the first space walk in March 1965. The United States does not plan to put up an orbiting platform until mid-1972.

An official report today said all systems were normal aboard Soyuz 6, which was entering its third day in orbit and aboard Soyuz 7, entering its second day.

Tass said the men on Soyuz 6 today practiced "visual astro-orientation by stars of the fourth and fifth magnitude, which makes it possible to determine the exact position of the ship during space flight without the use of ground equipment."

It said the Soyuz 7 crew "observed and photographed the surface of the earth, the day and twilight horizons and also practiced methods of autonomous navigation."

Tass also announced that by 3:20 a.m. EDT Soyuz 6 had completed 30 orbits and Soyuz 7 had made 14.

The announcement said Lt. Col. Georgy Shonin and civilian engineer Valery Kubasov remained comfortable aboard Soyuz 6, while Lt. Col. Anatoly Filipchenko, civilian engineer Vladimir Volkov and Lt. Col. Viktor Gorbalko felt well aboard Soyuz 7. All are flying in space for the first time although some have served as backup crews for previous Soyuz missions.

Both Soyuz 6 and 7 sent television broadcasts back to earth Sunday. One cosmonaut explained some of his tasks but said he could not elaborate on others until he returned to earth.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said Soyuz 6 and 7 were orbiting the earth every 88.6 minutes. Soyuz 6's orbit ranged from 120 to 143 miles while that of Soyuz 7 was 128 to 140 miles from the earth.

Tass gave no information about what is planned next but semi-official sources in Moscow indicated that Soyuz 6 might provide the work crew to weld parts of Soyuz 7 and the third spacecraft, Soyuz 8, together under the difficult conditions of weightlessness.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug, known for its reliable informants in Moscow, reported a total of seven cosmonauts will construct a space platform that will be used as an orbiting laboratory and possibly as a launching pad for deep space probes.

Tanjug said informants hinted that after the linkup some of the spacemen would be brought down while the rest would stay up for a time to carry out more construction and experiments.

SONORA, Calif. (AP) — Tuolumne County sheriff's investigators have identified a body found in a car trunk as that of a man sought in the slaying of the father of the singing Lennon Sisters.

Marvin Major, 38, had shot himself with a rifle after trying unsuccessfully to commit suicide by carbon monoxide poisoning, Sheriff Miller Sardella said. Major, a former mental patient, once wrote a letter to Peggy Lennon proposing marriage.

The Los Angeles police department had issued a first degree murder warrant for him 10 days after William Herbert Lennon, 54, was shot and killed at the Marina Del Rey Golf Range Aug. 12.

The car containing the body was spotted Saturday by two hunters in a patch of brush off a logging road 24 miles east of here.

British Troops Quell Rioting Protestants

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops quelled 1,000 rioting Protestants in Belfast early today with tear gas and a showed force. The rioters fought back with stones and sporadic shots.

Newsmen at the scene said all the shooting came from the rioters. One soldier was slightly wounded, adding to a weekend casualty list of at least three dead and scores injured.

Rotary Hears About School Activities

Hope High School Student Council President Jimmy Alford talked with the Hope Rotary Club, not to it, about student activities at the school, at the weekly luncheon meeting in the Town and Country last Friday. He stressed the fact that all functions are faculty sponsored and directed. He listed the clubs, groups and organizations and said they are numerous and varied in order to try to reach every student.

Anticipating questions about this year's new unit system for Hope School District 1A, the speaker assured his listeners that there is good student cooperation in all matters and he credited the success of the operation to the foresight by the administrators in avoiding crises.

C.R. "Dick" Moore presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Benny Coleman. Bobby Whitmarsh, assistant principal at HHS, was a guest and introduced the speaker. Dale Franks of the Hope High faculty was also a guest, and two visiting Rotarians from Texarkana were John Morris, Jr. and L.M. Burch.

Two Held for Burglary of Local Store

City Police arrested two local men in connection with the burglary last Friday night of Ben Owen's store in downtown Hope. They are listed as Billy Ray Cox, 25, and Michael Ross, 24, both of Hope.

Officers said the pair took more than $100 worth of clothing. They were turned over to the Sheriff's office for prosecution on charges of burglary and grand larceny. Both men are in jail here.

UA to Hear Murton, Sarver

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Former Arkansas Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton and state Commissioner of Correction Robert C. Sarver are scheduled to appear tonight on the Symposium '70 program at the University of Arkansas.

Murton was dismissed by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller after he charged that graves discovered at the prison were those of former inmates who had been murdered by prison trusty ad guards.
